OLD PAPERS.

Good conditioned old papers for sale at this office at only 40 cents per hundred.

CITY IN BRIEF.

James H. Harris, a physician, whose office is in the Iron Block, died suddenly yesterday morning of heart disease.

A meeting of the Presbytery of Indianapolis will be held at the Second Church, Monday next, at 11 o'clock a. m.

The Mt. Vernon Building and Loan Association has been incorporated under the State law. The capital stock is $500,000.

Dr. Collett, State Geologist, is suffering from a strained back, the result of a hasty effort to escape a street car on Wednesday.

The Union Prayer Meeting in the Second Presbyterian Church, yesterday morning, was led by Rev. J. R. Mitchell, whose subject was "Love for Souls." A deep and earnest desire for a great work of grace was very manifest in all the services. Rev. R. V. Hunter will conduct the meeting this morning.

John D. Peterson, the aged father-in-law of Patrolman McMullen, who died the other day, was buried yesterday from his daughter's residence, 382 Coburn street. Mr. Peterson was well-known in this city, having resided here for many years. He has always worked with untiring energy to further the interests of the laboring man, and leaves many friends behind to mourn his loss.

R. Sullivan's employee presented him with a very handsome office chair New Year's Day. The presentment address was delivered by Mr. Moulton, of the Western Union Telegraph Company.

The President, Cashier and Assistant Cashier of the Citizens' State Bank of New Castle, Henry County, have each filed a bond of $20,000 with the Secretary of State, for the proper performance of his duties as such officer.

The three tramps who attacked Tim Griffin on Thursday afternoon near the Board of Trade Building, during the night appointed for and were given lodgings at the Central Station, where they were identified. William Moore and Joseph Weston, and charges of assault and battery with intent to commit robbery were placed opposite their names. The tramps were arraigned in the Criminal Court, all pleading not guilty. They will be tried on Tuesday next, and Judge Norton will not doubt "settle" them for several years, for Griffin is sure they are the men who attempted to rob him.

DISPOSING OF TRAMPS.

Seven Taken to the Corporation Line and Given the Freedom of the Country.

About twenty-five ragged and wretched-looking human beings stood in a line in the "big room" at the Central Station yesterday morning, with their uncovered heads bowed down in the most servile manner, answering the questions put to them by Superintendent Lang. They were tramps, who had sweetly reposed on the hard, cold floor of the "tramp room" the night before, and would have been on the streets ere this in search of citizens with plenty of "bawls" in their pockets, had not the Superintendent expressed a desire to gaze on their faces. Captain Lang ordered seven of the most vicious ones to remain, informing the others that they might depart. The tramps, looking at each other, wondering what mischief was to be meted out to them, were hustled into the patrol wagon and hauled out to the crossing of the Belt near the Stock-Yards, where they were hustled out and informed that it was necessary for the good of the community that they scatter. A whip in the hands of one of the officers, was then raised with telling effect, and the tramps disappeared as if by magic. The Superintendent's scheme for the disposition of ill-conditioned vagrants is a good one, and will work as successfully this winter as it did last year on the smallpox epidemic.

A Much-Arrested Man.

Human May was arrested for assault and battery on Charles Wesver, yesterday morning, by Constable Gandy, and taken before Squire Feibleman. He gave $50 bonds for his appearance and was released. Not many minutes later he was arrested on the same charge, crowing out of the same affair, by Constables Blake and Reinhold, and taken before Squire Johnston. This brought up a question of jurisdiction in which the prosecutors, constables and justices were all interested. May's case before Feibleman was called in the afternoon and Wesver was sent for. He was found in Squire Johnston's Court, but said they would not let him go. Their action necessitated the calling in of Prosecutor Harding, under whom the deputy prosecutors serve. He decided the case belonged in Feibleman's Court. Meanwhile an attachment was issued which secured the attendance of Wesver, prosecuting witness. May was then tried and fined $3; costs, $17. This took the case out of Johnston's Court, but it seems to have stirred up considerable feeling among the court officials.

A Mysterious Death.

New Year's evening John Neumann, of 125 South Missouri street, went with Fred Boehling, of 225 West McCarty street, to Schlosser's saloon on South West street, where they, with some friends, drank beer together. They then went to Boehling's bakery, where they ate a supper of pigs' feet. After a short time Neumann complained of being ill and laid down. Nothing was thought of the matter until 4 o'clock, when some one went to wake him up, and he was found in an unconscious condition. He was taken home and a physician was summoned. Neumann died yesterday morning, evidently from poison. Coroner Stratford ordered a post mortem. Mr. Boehling, who experienced no evil effects from his supper nor from the beer, and this makes the death of Neumann peculiar. His domestic affairs have been very pleasant, and he never spoke of committing suicide to any one. He leaves a wife and five children.

The Woodward Lottery Case.

The trial of John T. Woodward for embezzlement was begun yesterday before Squire Feibleman. Evidence was introduced to show that the prosecuting witness had held a Louisiana Lottery ticket, which, after the drawing, proved to have drawn $1,200. It was also a part of the line of evidence that Woodward had received a bank draft for $1,188, which was the amount of the prize, less commission, and he had deposited it in the First National Bank of this city. The prosecuting witness swore that Woodward was frequently drunk, and Woodward introduced a colored man to testify to having overheard the witness threaten the prisoner with trouble unless Woodward paid him $50. This witness said he then stopped his work in the adjoining room "to catch de item," and heard Woodward reply that that was all right, as he liked trouble anyhow. The case was continued over to to-day.

Badly Hurt.

At a late hour Thursday night Martin Moran, proprietor of the Little Hotel Saloon, while driving near the corner of Grant and West streets was thrown from his buggy, the horse running away. He fell on his face and was badly hurt. The skin on his forehead was badly torn and bruised, the bones of his nose broken, the nostrils badly lacerated, the upper lip partially torn away, his front teeth knocked inward and his legs hurt—no one-cap was fractured. A physician was called and attended him at his residence, and it is believed that he will recover.

The Coal Pool.

The coal men had another meeting yesterday evening, and concluded to dwell together in unity. As a result of their deliberations, anthracite coal was reduced from $7 to $6.75 per ton, but block coal was advanced from $2.50 to $3.

No Successor Yet.

The State officers held a meeting in the Governor's office at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and discussed the question of appointing a successor to Mr. V. T. Malott on the Police Board, but no action was taken. Another meeting will be held to-day, and it is thought that the matter will be finally disposed of. There are quite a number of gentlemen mentioned in this connection, and the list will reach infinity if the appointment is postponed many days longer.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Judge C. S. Wesner, of Lebanon, is at the Grand.

Hon. John E. Lamb, of Terre Haute, is at the Grand.

Mr. John Q. Bayler, of Frankfort, was in the city yesterday.

Dr. R. H. Tarleton, of Martinsville, is registered at the Grand.

J. A. Schilling of Lafayette, is in the city to attend the meeting of traveling salesmen to-day.

J. H. Watson, Crawfordville; E. J. Marsh, Portland; G. F. Evans, Louisville, and W. W. Johnson, Bradford, are among the guests at the Denison.

M. D. Manson, Crawfordville; E. S. Root, Veedersburg; J. A. Schilling, Lafayette; Henry R. Fry, Marion; C. H. Beck, Plymouth; T. L. Clemens, Terre Haute; S. H. Oliver and wife, Fort Wayne, and Charles E. Kasmire, Shelbyville, are at the Grand Hotel.

J. O. Struber, Columbus; George E. Bundy, Franklin; David S. Gooding and W. W. Massmer, Greenfield; L. A. Hooker, Muncie; W. J. Snyder, Franklin; Charles N. Willson, Muncie; F. J. Frampton, Anderson; A. H. Stone, Madison; C. T. Tuley, Bloomington, and M. M. Reeves, Columbus, are at the Hotel English.

Knocked Down and Robbed.

About 7:30 o'clock last night, as Dick Jones, an employee of the firm of Outler & Savage, lumber dealers, was passing the corner of New Jersey and Georgia streets, he was set upon by two men, one of whom struck him a heavy blow on the back of the head, knocking him down and stunning him for an instant. The footpads then proceeded to go through him, carrying off $19, his week's wages. Jones has reported the matter to the police, but can give no description of his assailants, as it was very dark.

Few Renting.

The pew letting of Second Presbyterian will take place in the audience room of the church Monday evening, January 5, at 7:30 o'clock sharp.

The guessing for the house and lot prize at 200 East Washington street closed last night, and the committee on award took charge of all the guess tickets, and will at once register them. The counting committee will break the seal of the coffee sack probably on Monday, and proceed to count the grains, which, of course, will take several days. The committee are composed of disinterested parties, and ticket-holders can rely on everything being done fairly.
